End User Warning
This Technical Service Manual is provided solely to aid qualified spa service technicians in troubleshooting and repairing spas with control systems manufactured by Balboa Water Group. Balboa controls have absolutely no end user serviceable parts. Balboa Water Group does not authorize attempts by the spa owner/user to repair or service any Balboa products. Non-qualified users should never open or remove covers, as this will expose dangerous voltage points and other dangerous risks. Please contact your dealer or authorized repair center for service.

PUMP APPLICATION

WARNING

The Balboa Hydromassage pumps have been specifically designed for use in spa baths (whirlpools). They should not be used for any other purpose without first consulting your Balboa dealer or Balboa representative.

The Balboa Hydromassage pump is NOT a self priming pump. Ensure there is sufficient water to completely fill the pump casing (flood suction) before operating the pump.

PUMP POSITION

To avoid water damage to property from leaking connections or normal wear, the pump must be installed on a well drained site or a properly constructed drain tray.

If the pump is supplied separately to the spa bath, position the pump as close as possible to the spa. This will ensure optimum spa jet performance.

PUMP INSTALLATION

- The pump mount must be Solid – Level – Rigid – Vibration free (to reduce vibration and pipe stress, bolt the pump to the pump mount).
- Install the pump suction inlet higher than bath suction fitting (refer to Fig 1). This allows the pump to drain completely when the bath is emptied in accordance with Local Health Regulations.
- Ensure suction pipe has an even rise from the spa bath (whirlpool spa) suction inlet to avoid air locks, otherwise the spa pump may not prime, Fig. 1.
- Ensure discharge pipe has an even rise from the pump to the spa bath (whirlpool) connection to avoid air locks.
- Protect pump from excess moisture, external weather (where applicable).
- Allow adequate access for servicing pump and piping.

VENTILATION

- Provide adequate ventilation to prevent the motor from overheating (minimum distance is 102 cm). Without adequate ventilation the pump motor may overheat causing the pump to stop.
- The hydromassage pumps must be protected from exposure to the weather. If the pump is installed outside, a protective cover is required.

PIPING

The fittings on these hydromassage pumps are constructed of ABS. Some PVC jointing compounds are incompatible with ABS possibly causing failure to the product. Check compound suitability prior to use.

- For best pump efficiency use the least amount of fittings.
- Balboa hydromassage pumps are supplied complete with integrated multi-directional (40mm) barrel unions to allow easy installation of pipework. Use as follows for leak-free connections to pump:
  1. O-Ring and sealing surfaces must be clean.
  2. Ensure O’Ring remains on barrel unions and tighten HAND TIGHT only! (NO WRENCHES)
  3. No pipe compound or teflon tape on unions.
  4. Bond pipe to unions with a compatible PVC solvent cement.
  5. When appropriate, fill the bath with water and check that there are no visible leaks from the plumbing joints. Start the pump and repeat this step.

AIR BLEED VALVE

Air bleed valves are sometimes required on installations so that automatic air venting can occur.

Balboa 200 Series Hydromassage pumps are fitted with an air bleed valve. If the pump is installed exactly per Fig. 1, this valve will not be required to be made functional (the air bleed valves are sealed at the manufacturer).

If automatic air venting is required, cut the top of the valve off at the cut groove found approximately 3.5mm from top of the valve per Fig. 2 using a pair of side cutters. DO NOT USE PLIERS. The air bleed valve will not expel air.

As it is common for air valves to squirt water when sealing (each time the pump is turned on), Balboa recommends that a 10mm drain tube to be fitted over the barbed section of the air bleed valve to allow excess water to drain to waste. Refer to Fig. 2.
ELECTRICAL CONNECTION

Balboa advises that an earth leakage or residual current protection device must be fitted to all installations. Exactly match supply voltage to name plate voltage 220/240 Volt 50Hz (single phase only). Incorrect voltage can cause fire or seriously damage the motor which is not covered by your Balboa warranty!

- Balboa 200 Series hydromassage pumps are suitable for connection to 220/240 Volt 50 Hz power outlets.
- Electrical supply must conform to local/national electrical standards.

NOTE: The power supply lead has a type Y connector and if service is required to the power lead it must be replaced with the appropriate special power lead assembly. Warranty is void if unauthorized modifications are made to any component.

Plug the hydromassage pump power cord into a dedicated 10 Amp power socket and switch the power on.

All hot pump heaters have an in-built pressure sensor that will only allow the heater to activate when there is sufficient water flowing through the system.

NOTE:
- WARNING – To reduce the risk of electric shock, contact a qualified electrician to replace the damaged cord and related electrical components immediately.
- All hydromassage pumps must be installed in accordance with relevant electrical standards.

TOUCH PAD ASSEMBLY AND INSTALLATION

These pumps are supplied with a low voltage electronic touch pad and a 6 metre signal cable to control the pump and heater functions.

Assembly (2374, 2394, 2404)
Click the escutcheon onto the touch pad. Then apply the decal label to the face of the touch pad (ensuring that it is correct way up).

Installation
- To mount the touch pad to the bath, a 26mm diameter hole is required for models 2374, 2394 and 2404. Models 2376, 2377, 2386, 2387, 2396, 2397, 2406 and 2407 require a 38mm hole to be able to mount the touch pad flush on the bath surface (usually pre-drilled by the bath manufacturer).
- If a hole is required to be drilled, drill the hole in the required location on the rim of the bath ensuring that there is enough clearance for the outer rim of the touch pad to sit flush to the spa bath surface.
- Prior to mounting the touch pad, thread the signal cable through the hole in the bath surround and plug the signal cable into the back of the touch pad ensuring the signal cable end with the rubber boot is free to plug into the pump.
- Clean all rough edges from around the hole, apply a bead of silicone to the underside rim of the touch pad box only to secure it to the bath surface and prevent water leaking under the bath. Do not silicone the clip on the escutcheon to the bath surface.
- Position touch pad into the hole and allow to dry.
- Insert the loose end of the signal cable (with the rubber boot) into the signal cable socket located on the pump. Push the rubber boot onto the heater element control box to prevent any ingress of water into the pump.

Fig. 2
PUMP OPERATION - Important!
- Never run pump dry! Running pump dry may damage seals, causing leakage and flooding!
- Do NOT block pump suction! To do so with body may cause severe or fatal injury.
- Small children using spa bath must ALWAYS have close adult supervision!
- Do NOT block jets! To do so may flood area causing damage to equipment and water damage to surrounding areas.
- Before filling and starting your spa bath (whirlpool spa), ensure that the spa bath is free from debris or foreign material as irregular pump conditions may occur.
- Before switching on, fill the bath to a minimum 50mm above the spa jets.

NOTE: HOT PUMPS
- To ensure that the over temperature sensor does not activate whilst filling the bath and thus preventing the pump heater from operating, fill the bath with cold to luke warm water until water level reaches the suction cover.
- Water temperature greater than 40°C may make the heating element inactive.

Pump without heater function:
- Pump models 2376, 2386, 2396 and 2406 are controlled by a touch button and will circulate the spa water.
- Do not include an integrated heater element.

Hot Pump Function (Electronic Models):
- Pump models 2374, 2377, 2387, 2394, 2404 and 2407 are manufactured with integrated heating element and control devices to maintain water temperature and compensate for the natural cooling of the spa bath.
- The heater function is designed to only operate with the hydromassage pump at normal operating pressure. The combined operation of the heater and pump is controlled from the bath by a touch pad.

THE BATHMASTER CONTROLLER
Pump Models 2374, 2394, 2404 have special built in safety features for your benefit.

The touch pad has 2 or 3 buttons on it:
1. “JETS” button – turns on/off the pump and integrated heater.
2. “HEAT” button – enables the heater to be turned on/off whilst the pump is running.
3. If equipped with an optional blower, the touch pad will have an optional “AIR” button.

1. Non Priming Protection
This feature prevents damage to the pump from occurring in the event of the pump being activated where there is no or insufficient water in the bath for the pump to operate satisfactorily. If the pump fails to gain prime after 30 seconds of operation, the pump will shut down and will be “locked out” of operating for another 10 seconds. This will be indicated by an orange light flashing at the “Jets” indicator on the touch pad. After 10 seconds the unit will revert back to standby mode.

2. Loss Of Prime Protection
This feature protects the bath occupant from injury resulting from a “blocked suction” scenario. It will also prevent damage to the pump from occurring as a result of the pump operating without water flowing through it. If at any stage during the normal operation of the pump, the pump loses prime (e.g., a blocked suction scenario) the pump will shut down if it cannot regain prime within 3 seconds. The pump will remain in “lockout” for a further 10 seconds. This will be indicated by an orange light flashing at the “Jets” indicator on the touch pad. After 10 seconds the unit will revert back to standby mode.

3. High / Low Voltage
If the pump’s power supply falls outside the normal preset voltage parameters (as set by the Electrical Suppliers), the pump will shut down and remain in “lock-out” until the power supply returns to normal. “Lock-out” due to voltage fluctuations will be indicated by a green and/or red light flashing at the “Power” indicator on the touch pad. Once the power supply returns to normal the pump will revert back to standby mode.
Please note: This feature will not protect the pump in the event of extreme changes such as power surges.

The touch pad has 2 or 3 buttons on it:
1. “JETS” button – turns on/off the pump and integrated heater.
2. “HEAT” button – enables the heater to be turned on/off whilst the pump is running.
3. If equipped with an optional blower, the touch pad will have an optional “AIR” button.

The heating function is monitored by a pre-set thermostat to maintain water temperature to a maximum 40º C, interlocked to a secondary upper limit cut out for added protection to maintain a safe water temperature.

THE DR CONTROLLER
Pump models 2376, 2377, 2386, 2387, 2396, 2397, 2406 and 2407 have special built in safety features for your benefit.

- The touch button has a single on/off button on it which will activate the pump on/off automatically activate the heater (if included) with the pump operation.

1. Non Priming Protection
Non priming protection – this feature prevents damage to the pump from occurring in the event of the pump being activated where there is no or insufficient water in the bath for the pump to operate satisfactorily. If the pump fails to gain prime after 10 second of operation the pump will shut down and will be “locked out” of operating for another minute. This will be indicated by a light flashing on the touch pad. After 1 minute the unit will revert back to standby mode.

2. Loss of prime protection
This feature protects the bath occupant from injury resulting from a “blocked suction” scenario. It will also prevent damage to the pump from occurring as a result of the pump operating without water flowing through it. If at any stage during the normal operation of the pump, the pump loses prime (eg a blocked suction scenario) the pump will shut down if it cannot regain prime within 3 seconds. The pump will remain in “lockout” for a further minute. This will be indicated by a light flashing on the touch pad. After 1 minute the unit will revert back to standby mode.

TROUBLESHOOTING
If servicing of the unit is required at anytime, a service record should be kept listing details including any leaks, faulty operation, dry run conditions and operating pressure.

Please be aware that a service fee will be applicable if a fault occurs other than that as described in the product guarantee as being due to defects in materials of faulty manufacture.

Pump service should be performed by a suitably qualified personnel. Always unplug power lead prior to service to prevent personal injury.
